Vadodara based Matrix Comsec was awarded the Best Electronics Company Award in recently concluded GESIA Awards 2014, Ahmedabad. Matrix has won the award for the third time. The Award has been instituted by the Gujarat Electronics and Software Industries Association (GESIA) to acknowledge the achievements of the ICT & Electronics industry in Gujarat.

On the occasion, the Managing Director of Matrix Comsec, Mr. Ganesh Jivani said, “We are happy to win GESIA award for the Best Electronics Company. We thank GESIA for recognizing Matrix for our technologies, design and manufacturing. We export Matrix telecom and security solutions to more than 30 countries including USA, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Australia and UAE. This award will go a long way in motivating us towards establishing a world-class product company from Gujarat, India.”

Matrix is a true-blood indigenous product and solutions company with serious commitment and investments in product design, manufacturing and marketing-sales

It is the technology and the quality of its products that has helped Matrix defy competition from well established brands.

For the 14 award categories, entries were received from companies representing a diverse and inclusive profile of the ICT industry in Gujarat. A jury of intellectuals and experts, ranging from industry experts to academicians have assessed the entries and picked the awardees.

These awards are the only of their kind at the State level, aiming at recognizing “Excellence” on the basis of quantitative as well as qualitative criteria which shall set a benchmark in the industry. This unique initiative is intended to acknowledge achievements of the different players in the ICT business of Gujarat.
